MEDIA RELEASE

Update on seismic incident at Sibanye-Stillwater's Driefontein operations

Westonaria, 3 May 2018: Sibanye-Stillwater wishes to report that five of the 13 employees who were trapped following a seismic event at its Masakhane mine, Driefontein operations, have been freed by the mine rescue teams.

- Three of the five employees have been returned to surface, one of whom regrettably succumbed to his injuries and has passed away. The other two employees have been transported to hospital and are in a stable condition.
- Two of the five freed employees are still being brought to surface and are conscious.

Another three employees have been located and are responding to the rescue teams.

Management of Sibanye-Stillwater wishes to express its sincere condolences to friends and family of the deceased employee and will continue to make every effort to locate the remaining five employees who are unaccounted for, and return all the employees safely to surface.

A further update will be provided when more information is available.

Ends.
