Superior value for stakeholders

- Shareholders: return on investment: dividends and capital appreciation
- Employees: good health and prosperity, sustainable employment
- Communities: service delivery, housing, infrastructure, jobs and peace
- Unions and associations: growing and satisfied membership
- Suppliers: ability to transact on a transparent, sustainable and fair basis
- Government: transformation, economic growth, poverty alleviation and political control
- Management: satisfied stakeholders and strategic success

Committed to delivery of value to all stakeholders

- Delivery of superior value to shareholders, as providers of capital, of primary importance
- Financial performance underpinned by, and reliant on consistent and sustainable operational performance
- Operational sustainability requires alignment with and support from all stakeholders
- Awareness of broader social, economic and environmental impact therefore critical
- Sibanye-Stillwater committed to a holistic and inclusive value-creation strategy

Environmental value delivery

- Sale of certain assets to DRDGold: realises value, ensures rehabilitation of tailings facilities and creates employment
- Sibanye AMANZI: proactive and innovative water management strategy
- Photovoltaic project: environmentally friendly, renewable energy generation
- Gas flaring for power at Beatrix and powered underground locos and bus fleet

Sustainable
value

COMPANY

Creating value in the mining industry

- Championing and driving the principles which define a modern mining industry
- Adopting a firm but fair approach to stakeholder engagement – redefining the role of the mining industry
- Creating a safer and more productive work environment through the advancement of technology and R&D eg. Digimine partnership with Wits University
- Active participation in critical stakeholder forums
- Driving policy change in the industry through active participation of industry bodies such as the Minerals Council

Regional Economy

MINING INDUSTRY

- Political environment in South Africa has recently undergone significant change which is being complemented by tangible actions
- While the strong rand creates short-term headwinds we have confidence in 'the longer-term benefits
- Starting to see an improvement in relations in contrast to the fractious environment of recent years
 - new mining minister has better understanding of industry
- A policy and regulatory environment conducive to business competitiveness will promote investment and growth in the South African mining industry which remains a critical part of the national economy and a significant employer
 - concerned about seeming focus on transformation even if not competitive
- Recent judicial ruling on “once empowered, always empowered” another positive outcome for the industry
 - upholding this principle is essential
- Sibanye-Stillwater is committed to supporting inclusive growth in South Africa through mining
- Our recent South African investments provide significant exposure to South Africa and our company and its stakeholders stand to benefit significantly from this improving environment

Zimbabwe becoming the 'bread basket' again?

- Another significant change in Government, with more pro-active and positive dialogue taking place
- New Government appears to favour more practical, investor friendly policies than the ideological positions assumed by the previous dispensation
- Positive action post election later in the year will significantly improve investor perceptions towards the country
- At the moment platinum and diamonds are still classified as “strategic minerals” which, require +50% indigenisation
- Mimosa is too small a producer to feasibly deliver a smelter and/or refinery, and hence will not invest in a stand-alone smelter or refinery
- Tax rate is 25% has been in place for many years. Royalties payable on minerals mined is determined by individual mineral (4% for PGMs and 5% for gold)

Conclusion and the way forward

Conclusion

- Built sizeable, diversified PGM business at low point in cycle
- Realisation of synergies in SA and growth in US positions Group perfectly for higher price environment and for sustainability through cycle lows
- Closure of Lonmin acquisition will complete SA PGM strategy – logical value opportunity
- Fundamental PGM outlook positive – under various scenarios, deficits for platinum and palladium likely
- Debt/leverage is being addressed, liquidity headroom more than adequate
- Current market value doesn't reflect fundamental value

Our three-year goal

Strengthen our position as a leading international precious metals mining company by:

Deleveraging our balance sheet

Maintaining our focus on operational excellence

Improving our position on global industry cost curves

Addressing our SA discount

Pursuing value-accretive growth, based on a strengthened equity rating

Consistent delivery on our market commitments
